BRYAN GIVEN COOL RECEPTION BY RENOITES

The reception of William Jennings Bryan on his arrival in Reno yesterday morning was something of a frost, according to the Gazette, which declares the sudden changing of plans served to confuse and also caused resentment on the part of the rank and file of the party at the undue action of the leaders. The Gazette says:

"Showing the same rare misjudgment that has characterized democratic campaigns in previous years, the Bryan program was changed at the last moment upon the arrival of the Peerless One in Reno and instead of going to Virginia City by train as planned, Bryan was sent over the grade in an automobile.

"His reception was in the nature of a frost. But a handful of persons greeted the democratic leader and although orders had been issued to hold the V. & T. train 15 minutes so that Bryan might address the students of the University of Nevada, there was no occasion for the wait. The students didn't show up.

"A sprinkling of democratic enthusiasts assembled at the various stations along the V. & T. to catch a glimpse of Bryan, but all they saw was a flash of yellow as the cars sped by. Bryan was enjoying the luxury of a high powered automobile instead of a common railroad coach.

"Many democrats who had hoped to extend greetings to Bryan and accompany him to Virginia City by train, refused to go when they found that the plans had been changed at the last minute.

"This move on the part of the democratic campaigners has caused bitter resentment and disappointment among members of the party and opened again the old wounds which were believed to have healed."

The same paper has the following with regard to the speech of Col. Bryan as delivered at Virginia City:

"Col. W. J. Bryan left the auto in which he motored down from Reno this morning at Gold Hill and boarded the train at that point to continue the journey. He was met here by the entire population which escorted him to the opera house.

"Key Pittman, senatorial candidate, introduced Mr. Bryan, speaking of him as the most distinguished and beloved man in the United States. "Bryan pleaded for the election of the complete ticket of his party, claiming that his party is the only progressive party, and saying that the Baltimore convention was controlled by the 'folks at home'; that their influence in it was greater than his own.

"Taft, he believes, is honest and well meaning, but he held that he does not trust the common people. The democratic spellbinder asserted that the president can use his veto power but is not willing to delegate this power to the people. He accused him of standing with the tax eater instead of the taxpayer.

"He stated that Roosevelt could have nominated a progressive for president on the republican ticket, but refused and formed a new party to nominate himself, and he asserted that the new party stole all its progressive principles from the democrats.

"Roosevelt was severely arraigned as insincere, it being charged that Wall street was behind him in his campaigns. It was charged that in the west Roosevelt is a progressive and that in the east he is otherwise, allowing an endorsement of the Payne-Aldrich tariff and of Taft when chairman of the republican convention of New York state."

---how much Is A "Regular Customer" Worth to Your Store?

Suppose you could BUY 100 additional REGULAR CUSTOMERS during the next week or two—customers who, for years and years to come, would make a MAJORITY of their purchases of goods in your line at YOUR STORE?

What would each of these 100 customers be WORTH to you?

It is, we think, quite likely that if such an investment were possible, you'd eagerly pay TWICE AS MUCH as it would cost you to secure these 100 REGULAR CUSTOMERS through an advertising campaign big enough and aggressive enough to really make people ACQUAINTED with your store!
